

After 21 Years of ASU, Ann Marie Sadler Joins ATB!

As of Friday, June 29th, Ann Marie Sadler formerly known as the Administrative Systems Staff Manager for ASU-10, joined the newly established Terminal Business Service, ATB. Ann Marie is now the Manager of the Human Resource and Administrative Management Staff, ATB-10. Ann Marie joined the ASU organization when it was called the Logistics Service (ALG). She started as a summer hire and then was picked up permanently as a Supply Support Specialist in the Materiel Management Division (now in AAF). Ann Marie later moved to the Administrative Support Staff, as the Senior Analyst in the latter part of the 1980's and was responsible for handling the Impact 60 Special Project. This project was responsible for developing a plan and assisting ASU-300 management with the establishment of positions to bring on board 60 new contracts personnel in different series and levels within the ASU-300 organization. In 1991, Mrs. Sadler became the Manager of the Administrative Systems Branch after Emil Michaux retired. Ann Marie has been instrumental in leading the ASU organization in every area of Administrative Management and new concepts in Diversity, Organizational Development, Model Work Environment issues, Culture, training and budget to name a few. She has lead, trained, motivated, and mentored her staff, as well as others in the organization to strive for their best. She has made a lot of friends and will be truly missed. Ann Marie—we wish you the best and Good Luck in your new assignment!

CERTIFIED Ivan Thomas, ASU-210 successfully passed all requirements to obtain a professional title of "Certified Professional Property Management Association, Inc. (NPMA). The NPMA is an independent organization which rates the skill and ability of its members through examinations. There are currently three levels of proficiency in property management, they are Certified Professional Property Specialist (CPPS), Certified Professional Property Administrator (CPPA) and CPPM. The CPPM is the highest rated title that is awarded via examination by the NPMA. Earning this title makes Ivan the only FAA employee in the Federal Chapter to hold this designation.

Angelina Kinston, ASU-420 is a graduate of the George Mason University,

The Professional Certificate in Facility Management Program.

Deames Bynum, ASU-530 graduated from the National Defense University Information Resources Management College. He received his Chief Information Officer Certificate.

The future belongs to those who find opportunity in the beauty of their dreams.

Days like this we truly look forward to! After 37 years of government service, all with FAA, 6 years as Management Analyst working with Branch Manager , Mr. Al Barr, Procurement Support & Information Services Branch, ASU-110. Rita Freeman retires. She was joined by family, friends, and coworkers to celebrate her final days with FAA. Rita will remain in the Washington Metropolitan area for now because her son is still in high school. ASU wishes Rita the best and many long happy, peaceful days as her retirement begins.

Mission:

The Office of Acquisitions provides:

leadership, direction, and guidance related to acquisition policy and is responsible for planning, monitoring, controlling, scheduling, and implementing the acquisition of material, equipment and services for the National Airspace System (NAS) and for interagency and international programs.*

contracting, quality assurance, and acquisition policy and guidance for agency programs.*

 administrative and operational support for the FAA headquarters' employees through expertise on space management, administrative telecommunications, personal property, motor vehicles, and building management issues.*

leadership in corporate information technology and information management products and services.*

Maturity is many things. It is the ability to base a judgment on the big Picture, the long haul. It means being able to resist the urge for immediate gratification and opt for a course of action that will pay off later.

Maturity is perseverance. It is the ability to sweat out a project or a situation in spite of heavy opposition or discouraging setbacks and stick with it until it is finished.

Maturity is the ability to control anger and settle differences without violence or destruction. The mature person can face unpleasantness, frustration, discomfort, and defeat without complaining. Mature people know they can't have everything their own way every time.

Maturity is humility. It is being big enough to say, "I was wrong." And when he or she is right, the mature person need not experience the satisfaction of saying, "I told you so!"

Maturity is the ability to live up to your responsibilities, and this means being dependable. It means keeping your word. Do you mean what you say—and do you say what you mean?

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. Immature people spend their lives exploring endless possibilities and then do nothing—paralysis by analysis. Action requires sticking your neck out.

Maturity is the ability to harness your abilities and your energies and do more than is expected. The mature person sets stretch targets and strives diligently to attain them.

Maturity is the art of living in peace with that which we cannot change, the courage to change that which should be changed, no matter what it takes, and the wisdom to know the difference. Concepts & Practices of Management
